

Digitization is unstoppable. Home offices, mobile apps and online shopping are part of our everyday lives. We have the leading technologies for the global data flood of today and tomorrow. High-tech from the canton of Obwalden, Switzerland.

In the context of our growth, we are looking for a production-savvy

Project Manager Micro-Optics (m/f)

Your main tasks:

- Management of customer projects
- Creation of project plans
- Project monitoring and reporting
- Scheduling coordination with production planning & control, sales and external suppliers
- Preparation of initial sample test reports
- Clarifications with production

Your profile:

- Engineering degree and several years of work experience in the manufacturing industry
- Knowledge in MEMS manufacturing desirable
- Some years of experience as project manager
- good knowledge of German & English, oral & written
- Analytical, structured way of working, organizational talent, communicative personality

Do you share our enthusiasm for innovative and future-oriented technologies?

Ms. Iris Gisler, Manager Human Resources, is looking forward to receiving your complete documents including letter of motivation, CV and references by e-mail: bewerbung@axetris.com.

You will find further interesting positions at www.axetris.com