Chengdu Huajing Communication Equipment Co., Ltd is a high-tech enterprise specialized in manufacturing fiber optic communication distribution products, which located in Chengdu, occupying an area of over 20,000 square meters.

We are an experienced and highly qualified team with a group of senior engineers and technicians as well as management staff who have engaged in the development, manufacture and sales of optic communication devices for many years. As a professional and large domestic manufacture of fiber optic communication product, we focus on supplying first-class products of communication network, with integrated solutions for domestic and international telecom operators and main telecom equipment operators, and network integrators.

Our main products are optic cable management equipment (ODF), (OCC), optic fiber splice closure, terminal box, ee in one access and network cabinets etc.

http://www.huajingfiber.com